

Carbon conversations

Are you looking for help to become a Green faith community?

"This material is an inspiring combination of the human and the technical, helping us move from fear and uncertainty about climate change, to hope and action. Put simply, it's superb."

Anne Miller, Board Member, Stop Climate Chaos

A series of six 90 minute conversations for groups of six to eight people, skillfully designed and offering a superb handbook full of practical information.

This is a great opportunity for people to share the dilemmas and challenges of facing up to climate change and to find practical ways forward.

When: Starts Monday 10 May (every two weeks for six weeks) or Tuesday 18 May (also fortnightly). Choose your preferred starting time 4.30pm or 7.30pm

Where: The United Church, Jewry St, Winchester. (If you have a large enough local group we will consider coming to you.)

How much: The whole series and handbook costs only £20 per person.

Who: The conversations are open to all members of any faith community.

Invitation to Interfaith Event on Climate Change

Winchester Sat 12 June 2010 9.30-1.30

*"No one is immune - rich, poor, developed and developing countries. We are all in this together. I will probably be spared the worst effects of climate change, but I worry for our children's future and for the millions of people who are already being impoverished and displaced."
Archbishop Desmond Tutu*

Come and discuss your hopes and fears about climate change, and hear from different traditions why it is important to their faiths to take action.

When: 12th June 2010, 9.30am start to 1.00pm end and lunch

Where: The United Church, Jewry St, Winchester.
