THE ASCENSION OF THE LORD (A) 5th June, 2011

People come and go.

If we look back over our past we will remember people who played important roles at particular times in our life but who are no longer part of it. Parents, teachers, neighbours, colleagues..... all people whose influence has helped to make us the people we are, but they are no longer with us.

The disciples' experience of life with Jesus in Galilee left its mark on them. That experience made them the people they were when they witnessed Jesus' departure at his Ascension.

Jesus left the bewildered disciples with a promise and a task. The promise was that he would come back to them and give them power, through the Holy Spirit. The task was that they should tell his story to the world, so that others may believe.

We have not known Jesus' physical presence. We are those "who have not seen and yet believe." Through our baptism we have inherited the same promise and the same task as the disciples who witnessed the Ascension.

We have received the gift of the Holy Spirit and we have been authorised to tell Jesus' story, to teach, and to make disciples.

Speaking about the Ascension St. Augustine said "He withdrew from our eyes that we might return to our own heart to find him".

The celebration of the Ascension is a reminder that if we wish to see Jesus we will find him not only in our hearts but also in the multitudes who need to hear his story.

The New Translation of the Roman Missal – is the Mass changing?

The structure of the Mass is not changing, nor are the actions of the Mass. The readings at Mass, which are often printed in Sunday and Weekday Missals, are not changing at this time, nor are the hymns we sing. However, with the introduction of the new translation from September, we will notice changes in what we say at Mass. A significant number of the texts have changed, sometimes by a few words, sometimes by much more. We will have to relearn prayers we were used to praying from memory. Prayers said by the priest will also sound different. Musical settings which use the words of the Mass will change to reflect the new translation. The style of language we will hear and pray may seem more formal to us, and perhaps more complex. However, the new translation is a wonderful opportunity for us to 'hear again' texts with which we have become familiar, and perhaps discover new richness and meaning in them.

'What is happening and when?' From 3rd/4th September we will begin using the new translation of the Roman Missal. This means that many of the words the congregation and the priest say at Mass will change. The readings will stay the same. There will be new musical settings of the Gloria, the Holy Holy, the Memorial Acclamation and the Lamb of God. From the first Sunday of Advent, we will also use new translations of the Collects, Prayers over the Gifts, and Prayers after Communion. As a parish, we are working to ensure that the move to the new translation is as smooth as possible, and that everyone has the opportunity to learn more about it. We will provide leaflets with the new responses on, so that everyone can participate.
